Blending innovation and value into exceptional seed products. Mixing incredible service and expertise to form lasting relationships.

Concerto is the newest generation of a Shamrock type Kentucky bluegrass. Developed by Rutgers University, Concerto is an advanced hybrid cross of the original Shamrock and an exceptional newcomer, NB70. An aggressive variety exhibiting early spring vigor and green up, excellent sod forming tendencies and a rich, medium green color. Improved disease resistance, especially to leaf spot, allows Concerto to perform well over the course of the entire growing season helping to maintain a healthy, attractive turf. Concerto is a strong component to any bluegrass or combination mixture and a must have variety in your Kentucky bluegrass arsenal. Concerto is ideal for many different uses including high traffic areas, home lawns and athletic fields.
